Deductible Bribes

The Internal Revenue Service taxpayers' guide contains the information that bribes and kickbacks paid in nongovernmental transactions of a business nature are deductible unless the briber has been convicted of the charge, or has pleaded guilty or nolo contendere. It says so right there on page 146 of this year's "Blue Book."

Nevertheless, the regulation is going to raise a few eyebrows and some questions. For instance, is a bill discreetly conveyed to a maitre d' to be considered a bribe, or simply a tip? Is a round on the house, as rare as it is these days, a bribe, a kickback, pure lagniappe or what?

These and other heady questions may preoccupy the IRS in its effort to lend respectability, at least for tax purposes, to a darker side of mercantile morality. — Shreveport (L.A.) Journal

The Summing Up

In the February issue of Redbook magazine, Jan Robinson tells what it's like to be black and female at prestigious Princeton University. A 21-year-old black student from Brooklyn, New York, she entered Princeton as a freshman in 1969.

Her conclusion in an epilogue is: "I fully realize that whatever I achieve and take back to my community will be the result of my own efforts and my own ability, not because I attended a prestigious school. 'Ivy League' doesn't mean a thing to many blacks — what I have to offer does."

Black or white, that sums it up. A prestigious university is no substitute for a student's own effort to take full advantage of opportunity. What an institution offers is important but more important still is the attitude by which a student approaches that offering. — Florence (S.C.) Morning News

Court Halts Calling of Grand Jury

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A temporary order prohibiting C. R. George of Danville from convening a grand jury to investigate the former fee practices in the court of Circuit Judge Russell C. Roberts of Conway was issued Tuesday by the Arkansas Supreme Court.

The court, ruling after a brief hearing, gave attorneys 10 days in which to file briefs on the contention by Prosecutor Alex G. Streett of Russellville that George is not eligible to serve as a special judge. Attorneys were given five additional days to respond to the briefs.

Streett contends that the "purported election" of George April 6 by lawyers of the 5th Judicial Circuit to sit as a special judge was invalid on grounds that the state Constitution does not contain provisions for the selection of a special judge by members of the bar for the purpose of empaneling a grand jury.

In addition, Streett contends that George's election was invalid because attorneys of the district were not given proper notice of the meeting at which George was named.

Roberts disqualified himself and called the meeting of the lawyers to name a special judge on the same day, according to Deputy Prosecutor Dale Braden of Russellville, who argued Streett's case before the Supreme Court.

Braden told the high court Tuesday that 12 lawyers in the circuit either received no notice of the April 6 meeting called by Roberts to elect a special judge or were given only 30 minutes advance word. He said no explanation was given lawyers at the time about why the meeting was being called.

Mike Wilson of the attorney general's office, representing George, said the state Constitution did not appear to require that all lawyers of the circuit be notified of an election meeting.

New Auto Bumper Shown U.S. Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators investigating the high cost of auto repairs have been shown a bumper designed by an inventor who claims it is cheaper, more efficient and safer than bumpers planned by the auto industry to meet new federal regulations for 1973 models.

After watching movies of tests and taking test drives into a Senate Office building loading platform at more than 5 miles an hour, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said he was impressed. He appeared to be slightly shaken by one jolt after riding a bright red American Motors Hornet into the platform. But he was not hurt and neither was the car.

Hart said he would demand the Department of Transportation tell the Senate Commerce Committee why it suggested putting off new bumper standards until 1973 when, if the claims of inventor Paul Taylor of Buffalo, N.Y., are true, high impact bumpers could be installed on next year's models.

Taylor and his 23-year-old son, Doug, a mechanical engineer, said, DOT has repeatedly ignored attempts to call its attention to their device, which works like a shock absorber. In other words, a plunger is forced by the impact into a cylinder filled with compressible silicone oil.

The Taylors also said DOT has ignored their warnings that rigid or spring-supported bumpers planned by some automakers could simply pass the force of an impact to the car's occupants.

They said they have offered to sell their devices to the automakers at $5.60 a unit or less than $25 a car.

The industry Monday told the committee that DOT bumper regulations will boost car prices by $100.

The Department of Transportation has decreed bumpers on 1973 autos must be capable of withstanding a 5 miles-per-hour impact in front and an impact of 2.5 m.p.h. in the rear without damage to safety features. The rear bumper standard goes to 4 m.p.h. by 1974.

In movies of tests they said were filmed last Friday and in the demonstration for senators, the Taylor's Hornet withstood impacts both front and back of more than 5 m.p.h. with no damage at all. In one of the filmed tests, however, the engine was shaken loose by a 7.5 m.p.h. impact.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

13 Gun Posts Wiped Out by Bombers

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Striking in two waves, U.S. Air Force F4 Phantom jets destroyed 13 anti-aircraft guns around the Mu Gia pass in North Vietnam, the U.S. Command announced today.

The command said the Phantoms attacked the anti-aircraft sites after receiving fire from North Vietnamese guns while over Laos. None of the U.S. planes was damaged, the command said.

The command in a delayed report said the strikes took place Monday afternoon, a day after a North Vietnamese MIG21 jet attacked a small American observation plane over the Plain of Jars in northern Laos.

A command spokesman, Maj. Charles Johnson, said the strikes Monday were against anti-aircraft positions 75 miles north of the demilitarized zone and two miles inside North Vietnam from the Laotian border.

The 13 guns knocked out were the most reported destroyed in one day by U.S. pilots since the halt in bombing of the North Nov. 1, 1968.

The U.S. Command said three 57mm guns were knocked out in the first strike—an attack by two Phantoms at about 6 p.m. Monday.

About 45 minutes later, three more Phantoms attacked the cluster of gun positions around the Mug Gia pass and destroyed five 57mm guns and five 37mm guns, the command said.

The U.S. Command described the Phantom attacks as "protective reaction" strikes, the 36th so far this year against North Vietnamese positions that either fire on U.S. planes or threaten to fire.

The five top scorers in the activity will compete in the District 4-H Contest held in connection with the Poultry Festival at Nashville on Saturday, May 29.

Other 4-H members, leaders, and the public is invited to attend and observe these County and District activities.

Fair Skies for State Thursday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fair skies and mild temperatures are expected in Arkansas Thursday.

The pleasant weather will follow a general clearing tonight. All rain was expected to end in the state by this afternoon.

Heavy rains Tuesday night produced flash flooding in some parts of central and south central Arkansas. A tornado warning was issued Tuesday night for Pulaski and Lonoke counties after a funnel cloud aloft was reported near the intersection of Interstate 40 and Arkansas 365. No damage was reported and no other funnels were reported.

An intense thunderstorm deluged an area west of Little Rock Tuesday night with almost six inches of rain. Natural Steps, which is about 15 miles northwest of Little Rock, reported flooding at about midnight. The National Weather Service says the heaviest rainfall fell in an area less than five miles in diameter with nearby areas receiving little or no precipitation.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 54, Harrison 56, Jonesboro 62, Pine Bluff 62, Texarkana 64, El Dorado 61, Memphis 62, Little Rock 62 and Fort Smith 62.

2 Killed by Texarkana Cave-in TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Two Texarkana men were killed Tuesday when a ditch at the site of a new 10-story apartment complex caved in.

Officials identified the victims as Joe Chastain, 43, and Reek Goodson, 58, both plumbers for Benco Inc. of Texarkana.

Manuel Crossland, 67, of New Boston, Tex., a laborer, was injured in the accident. He was hospitalized at Texarkana, but was not believed to be in serious condition.

A spokesman for Benco said the three men were working in a ditch laying a 10-inch sewer pipe when the side of the ditch caved in.

Hot-Rodding on E. 2nd St. Protested

A group of citizens from E. Second St. appeared before the city directors at their regular meeting Tuesday night with a request that speed limit signs be posted on E. Second St., and asked for increased police patrol in this area.

Several citizens on the street have complained that they have an unusual number of "hot-rodgers" coming through the neighborhood and that there are a large number of small children living on this street. Two of the group said they had recently reported reckless driving, signed a complaint and appeared in court against the speeders.

They were complaining that the sentences handed out by the judge were not tough enough. The board agreed to have speed limit signs posted and Chief Alvin Willis, who was present, stated that they would give them the best coverage they could with the limited amount of patrolmen.

The board of directors commended the group for their reporting of hazardous driving and asked their continued vigilance. Mayor Strong stated that citizen's action of this sort was the very best method of controlling reckless driving and pledged full support of their efforts.

Alvin Gordon of Gordon Electric Service, on W. Second St., presented a request to the Board for permission to provide some off-street parking in front of his place of business. Since "No Parking" signs have been posted on W. Second from the railroad to Hervey Street, he had no place for customer parking. Removing a section of the curb would permit off-street parking. The city director's agreed to work with him in getting access to his off-street parking area.

The board reviewed a request from the Red River Valley Association for a contribution of $250 toward the expense of sending a group to Washington to appear before the Rivers and Harbors Commission with a request for several projects along Red River, including additional recreational facilities for Millwood Lake. After some review, the board voted to pay $150 toward the expenses of such a committee, along with a request that at least one member from Hempstead County be included in the group.

The Directors reviewed plans of the State Highway Department for the rebuilding of South Main Street and legal descriptions of several small pieces of property that will be needed for additional right-of-way. DDT and Infertility Are Linked

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government scientists have concluded a suspected link between DDT and human infertility warrants attention but not an immediate ban of the pesticide.

Two Environmental Protection Agency scientists who reviewed DDT experiments with rats said the test failed to demonstrate an imminent hazard to human health.

The tests with rats were conducted by Dr. W. Leroy Heinrichs, a gynecologist, and Dr. Ronald L. Gellert, a physiologist, both of the University of Washington.

The doctors reported an experimental link between DDT and ovarian cysts in offspring of laboratory rats. They said a corresponding condition causing infertility was detected with increasing frequency in women.

As a result of Heinrichs-Gellert findings that DDT might have caused the infertility, EPA launched a study whose results were sent Tuesday to Administrator William D. Ruckelshaus.

An EPA source told The Associated Press the report suggests the findings be considered in the continuing review of Ruckelshaus' decision to seek cancellation of all uses of DDT. Ruckelshaus began procedures last March 18 to ban all DDT uses because of suspicions it may cause cancer, mutations and birth defects, at least in experimental animals.

But he allowed DDT to remain on the market during the review, which could take a year or more, because, he said, there was no evidence of imminent hazard to human health—the legal requirement for suspending sale of such chemicals.

Heinrichs and Gellert reported their experiments two weeks later.

Dr. O. Garth Fitzhugh, EPA's toxicology adviser, said in an interview Tuesday the experiments used a form of DDT to which humans ordinarily receive little exposure.

"I don't think from a practical standpoint it (infertility) would occur in humans," he added. "I see no imminent hazard."

Another EPA pesticides expert, Dr. Cipriano Cueto, said: "They used a type of material to which we have the least exposure, but even if it were the more common type it still would have been an exaggerated dosage."

Reagan Not Likely to Quit Politics

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan, refusing further comment about his income taxes, says public officials are entitled to all the privacy of ordinary citizens.

"And none of us are very happy about prying neighbors," the Republican governor declared at a news conference Tuesday.

Reagan also said he would not necessarily quit politics in 1974, when his term expires because of his wife's desire that he not run again for public office. But he didn't say he might run for office again.

Nancy Reagan complained in a broadcast interview about the political attacks on her 60-year-old husband after it was disclosed he owed no state income taxes this April. She said "I would hope that he would not" run again.

Reagan acknowledged last week that because of business reverses he did not have to pay state income taxes on the 1970 business year. He said reporters demeaned themselves by asking him about this part of his life.

'Quake of Extreme Violence'

By NICK LUDINGTON
Associated Press Writer

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — At least 58 persons were killed and hundreds injured this morning in a powerful earthquake that struck the town of Burdur and surrounding villages in southern Turkey.

The governor of Burdur Province, Esref Ayhan, said 18 deaths had been confirmed in Burdur and 20 each in two nearby villages.

He said 70 per cent of the buildings in Burdur, a town of 30,000 people, had been destroyed. Ayhan also had reports of entire villages collapsing in outlying areas which had not been contacted yet.

Istanbul's Kandilli Observatory registered the quake at 8 on the Richter scale, signifying it was of great violence. The Los Angeles quake in February registered between 6 and 6.5.

Housing Minister Sellahattin Baburoglu dispatched relief supplies and a mobile hospital to the city 225 miles southwest of Ankara.

Ayhan said the local hospitals were cleared of noncritical patients and were rapidly filling with injured from the quake.

Troops were sent to dig for victims in stricken villages.

The housing minister said he and the ministers of interior and village affairs were flying to the earthquake area.

Turkey has been struck by killer earthquakes each year since 1966. In March 1970, a quake killed 1,089 persons and destroyed the town of Gediz in western Turkey.

The quakes take place along the Anatolian Fault, that starts around Burdur, ranges north along the Aegean coast and east along the Black Sea, then plunges south again in the eastern mountains.

Astronaut Suit on Fire Dismissed

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A $5-million suit against spacecraft builders by the widow of Virgil L. "Gus" Grissom, one of three astronauts killed in a 1967 launch pad fire, was dismissed Tuesday.

Betty Grissom had charged that faulty wiring and negligence caused the blaze aboard Apollo 1 at Cape Kennedy which also claimed the lives of Roger Chaffee and Ed White.

U.S. Dist. Judge George C. Young ruled that such a claim must be filed within two years after a death. Mrs. Grissom filed Feb. 18 of this year in Brevard County Circuit Court.

The accident, the lone fatal mishap involving a U.S. space mission, occurred Jan. 27, 1967, more than four years before legal action was taken.

Appeal May Suspend Executions

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund has asked the Supreme Court to block legal executions in the United States by considering at least one new legal attack on capital punishment.

Speaking for 27 of the 648 condemned prisoners the fund urged the court to schedule a hearing in any of the death cases or direct a lower court to take evidence on the contention that capital punishment itself is unconstitutional.

In a brief filed late Tuesday, the fund said the situation is "perilous" since the court has ruled out two procedural arguments that had caused a nationwide halt in executions since 1967.

Stays of execution in many of the 648 cases will now be dissolved, the fund said, and "executions are imminent." Additionally, the brief said, many of the prisoners do not have lawyers to help them try to avert execution.

The 26 men and one girl, teen-ager Marie Hill of Rocky Mount, N.C., are on death row in eight states, Alabama, California, Colorado, Georgia, Nevada, New Jersey, North Carolina and Virginia.

In all there are 641 male prisoners and 7 female prisoners on death sentence in 33 states. About 135 have appeals pending in the court.

Earlier Tuesday, William A. Ralph, a 37-year-old delivery man who won a reprieve last December, appealed to the court in a case that may bring about a ruling on use of the death penalty for convicted rapists.

Ralph, convicted in 1961 of an attack on a Kensington, Md., woman, said he was entitled to a new trial because a confession used as evidence against him was not voluntary. The state of Maryland is now expected to file a cross-appeal, challenging the finding by the U.S. Court of Appeals in Richmond, Va., that Ralph's death sentence.

The issue in this case is whether the Constitution prohibits the death penalty when a rape victim's life was neither "taken nor endangered."

There are 79 convicted rapists facing execution in 10 states. The fund told the justices "it is surely imperative that no human life be extinguished until the fundamental questions that Ralph raises under the 8th Amendment are authoritatively resolved by this court."

The court last week decided state legislatures are not required to set standards to guide juries choosing between life and death. Also, the court held in the 6-3 ruling, capital trials need not be separated so that there is a distinct sentencing phase.

This removed the legal roadblock of hundreds of executions. However, none has been carried out so far.

The fund suggested a variety of legal arguments the court an "illuminating" record on the could consider. The more appropriate legal approach to cap-punishment, the lawyers tal punishment.

Stretchout on Wages Urged

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson proposed today a one-year delay in raising the minimum wage to $2.00 in order to ease inflationary pressure and the risk of higher unemployment.

Presenting the administration's long-delayed response to proposals in Congress for an increase in the current $1.60 minimum wage, Hodgson told a House labor subcommittee too rapid a step-up could have serious effects on both employment and inflation.

A bill now before the subcommittee would raise the minimum to $1.80 next January and to $2.00 on January 1, 1973. Hodgson endorsed the increase to $1.80, but said the jump to $2.00 should be delayed until Jan. 1, 1974.

In his testimony, Hodgson said the basic difference in the two programs is that the minimum wage covers all workers while the welfare reform plan deals only with families.

"Quite simply, we believe this is too large an increase over that period," he said in prepared testimony. "We propose instead that the second step of the increase be delayed one year to 1974."

"A 25 per cent increase seems too substantial a cost increase to impose in a 12-month period without having serious effects upon both employment and inflation."

Israeli Put Road Into Lebanon

BEIRUT (AP) — An Israeli force crossed the Lebanese border Tuesday morning and bulldozed a road for military operations some 500 yards inside Lebanon, the Beirut newspaper Al Liwa reported today.

The report said Israeli army engineers cut the road near Ramia Village in a three-hour operation as a link with other dirt roads. The Israelis have built inside Lebanon since the 1967 war. The Israelis cross the border periodically and use the roads to search for Palestine guerrillas.

Al Liwa said that while the engineers worked, a 12-man patrol, two halftracks and two helicopters guarded the operation. The soldiers set up roadblocks and searched passersby, then pulled back under cover of intensive machine-gun fire directed at nearby villages, the reports said.

No casualties were reported. In the Gaza Strip, meanwhile, grenade explosions injured six Arab workers riding in a civilian bus, the Israeli military command said. Two grenades were thrown at the bus near the El Bureij refugee camp.

Another grenade was thrown at an Israeli army patrol near another refugee camp in the strip but wounded a 9-year-old Arab girl.

and railroad industry negotiators met separately with National Mediation Board officials and Labor Department mediators behind closed doors at NMB headquarters. No progress was reported.

During negotiations that have lasted 20 months, the union has held out for a 54 per cent increase over 36 months retroactive to the expiration date of the old contract, Jan. 1, 1970.

The railroads, however, have agreed to a recommendation from a presidential emergency board for a 42 per cent increase over 42 months.

Skilled signalmen currently earn $3.78 an hour.

The union can legally strike 12:01 a.m. Saturday when the cooling-off period instituted by President Nixon to avert a strike last March 5 ends.

Chamberlain says the union will strike at 6:00 a.m. local time Monday unless a settlement is worked out.

Vultures Line River in E. Pakistan, Sign of Bloody Civil War

By MORT ROSENBLUM
Associated Press

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP) — Vultures too full to fly perch along the Ganges River in grim contentment. They have fed on perhaps more than a half million bodies since March.

Civil war flamed through Pakistan's eastern wing on March 25, pushing the bankrupt nation to the edge of ruin. The killing and devastation defy belief.

Estimates of total dead start at six figures and range to over a million.

Reporters were banned from East Pakistan from March 26, when 40 newsmen were bundled out and stripped of their notes and film, until the government escorted in a party of six on a conducted tour May 6-11.

From visible evidence and eyewitnesses questioned out of official earshot, the following account emerged:

Throughout March, Sheikh Mujibur Rahman's Bengali-dominated Awami League harassed the military government with a noncooperation campaign demanding autonomy and more benefits from West Pakistan.

Bengalis killed some West Pakistanis in flurries of chauvinism.

Mujib's party had won a majority in the National Assembly elections and he was Pakistan's major political figure. But negotiations in Dacca with President Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan broke down, and Yahya flew back to West Pakistan March 25. That night the army reared out of its barracks, and East Pakistan was aflame.

projected from body counts at mass graves, say about 10,000 persons were shot to death or burned to death the first few nights in Dacca.

Official spokesmen contended that the army went into action to stop a rebellion planned for 3 o'clock the next morning. They insisted that the army killed no one but those who fired at the soldiers.

But other officers said the rebellion plot was only an assumption.

Eyewitnesses said at least hundreds of victims were women and thousands were unarmed civilians, gunned down indiscriminately.

Europeans likened the damage to that of the hardest hit theaters of World War II.

The first week in April, when the army turned its attention to the city, occupation was swift. Mortars and heavy guns pounded the three-block market of two-story brick buildings to rubble.

As the army regained control across the province, embittered non-Bengali civilians took their own revenge, adding many more deaths to the toll.

Denies Paying GI Lickbacks

By WILLIAM L. CHAZE
Associated Press Writer

REDSTONE ARSENAL, Ala. (AP) — A witness in the trial of M.Sgt. William Higdon has denied paying kickbacks to the operators of clubs for troops in Vietnam as a bonus for ordering certain cigarettes.

The denial came Tuesday from Glenn Faulks, the first government witness to take the stand in Higdon's court-martial.

The sergeant, who operated clubs at Long Binh near Saigon in 1967-68, is charged with diverting $7,200 in cigarette promotion funds to a coded Swiss bank account.

Higdon, 41, of East Point, Ga., also is charged with bribery and graft in his operation of the clubs. He faces a maximum prison sentence of 19 years if convicted.

Edward Hopper of Huntsville, Ala., Higdon's civilian lawyer, asked Faulks on cross-examination if the promotion money paid service clubs was actually a kickback.

"I never paid a kickback," said Faulks, his face flushing and his voice rising. "It was not a kickback."

Faulks, a graying, retired Army major, was general sales manager of the James Henry Organization of Miami, Fla., when Higdon ran the clubs at Long Binh.

Faulks has testified that his firm, whose name was later changed to Envoy International-Asia Ltd., paid Higdon $7,200 in promotional allowances intended to buy free sample cigarettes for soldiers at the clubs when the sergeant ordered 600 cases of Liggett and Myers Tobacco Co. cigarettes.

"School Head Is Charged 'Too Harsh'"

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — About 50 patrons of Harris Elementary School charged Tuesday night that Charles Evans, assistant principal at the school, had administered unduly harsh punishment to some students at the school.

Robert L. Thompson of North Little Rock, chairman of the Concerned Citizens of Harris School, told the Pulaski County School Board that Evans paddled children with a one-by-four-inch board and had locked them in classrooms for punishment.

Hosea E. Harrington, a board member, suggested that the complaint be dealt with in executive session. The board met in executive session with Evans, Thompson and other Harris School patrons for about 30 minutes, but the board took no action.

Harris is a predominantly black school, but Thompson said complaints about excessive punishment came from both black and white patrons. Evans is white.

Urges Speed-Up of U.S. Judiciary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sam J. Ervin, Jr., D-N.C., urged the Justice Department today to put aside the "vain and false panacea of preventive detention" and to support legislation to secure speedy trials of federal criminal cases.

He said "The Justice Department has so far maintained a stolid silence" on a bill he introduced nearly a year ago. The measure, in general, would require federal criminal defendants to be brought to trial within 60 days.

Ervin has urged this as an alternative to preventive detention, under which a judge may order persons accused of certain crimes held for trial without bail for up to 60 days if he finds their release would endanger the community.

Preventive detention was included in a District of Columbia crime bill passed by Congress last year, but the Justice Department was unable to win passage of a bill to permit it in federal courts throughout the country.

Ervin said his bill now has 42 senators as sponsors and President Nixon and Chief Justice Warren E. Burger have spoken strongly in support of speedy criminal trials.

He quoted Nixon as telling the National Conference, on the Judiciary a few weeks ago that "this is not an impossible goal," that "in criminal cases in Great Britain today, most accused persons are brought to trial within 60 days after arrest."

And he said Burger had predicted in an address to the American Bar Association the crime rate would be reduced sharply if criminal cases were tried within 60 days after indictment.

But Ervin said he is disturbed the Justice Department has not yet responded to a request he first made in September of last year for its views on his bill.

He criticized the Department's tactics in enforcing the District of Columbia's preventive detention law and what he termed a cloak of secrecy surrounding the proceedings.

"It was reprehensible, indeed, ever to begin this experiment with the civil liberties of D.C. citizens," Ervin said. "It is unpardonable to carry out the experimentation in secret. For now we have not only preventive detention but a return to the Star Chamber as well."

Ask Better Marking of Foods

WASHINGTON (AP) — The housewife who doesn't want her family to eat too much cholesterol presently has to memorize either the content of dozens of food items or carry a guide with her to the store.

But under a proposal published today by the Food and Drug Administration she could tell by glancing at the label of any processed food, not only if it's high in cholesterol but whether it contains any other substance she wants to avoid.

The proposal, framed not by the FDA but by five George Washington University law students, would require the listing of all processed foods' ingredients on their labels.

The FDA took the unusual step of publishing the proposal for a 60-day comment period without endorsing it. The agency's head, Dr. Charles C. Edwards, said the comments would help the government decide whether the change is desirable and whether the government has the legal power to effect it.

The proposal would require so-called standardized foods, which account for 20 per cent of grocery store items, to meet the full-labeling requirements that now apply to nonstandardized foods only.

A standardized food is one in which the types and amounts of ingredients are set by FDA regulations.

Examples include peanut butter, jams, cherry pie, enriched flour, some breakfast cereals and cola drinks. The peanut butter standard, for instance, requires 90 per cent peanut content.

We don't recommend West's two-heart bid as a steady diet, but in top-flight competition it pays to keep pressure on your opponents and Billy Eisenberg elected to bid it. He did have six points for his weak two bid, but had to count three jacks to get to that six points.

The hand came up early in our match against China. It didn't shut out Conrad Cheng. He doubled. Elmer Hsiao, sitting South, responded three diamonds. Cheng cue bid three hearts and Bobby Goldman doubled to show something in his partner's suit. The bidding continued with both Chinese considering a slam, but finally settling for a five-diamond contract.

Hearts were opened and continued. Hsiao ruffed the second heart in dummy, cashed the ace and queen of trumps, came to his hand with the king of clubs, drew

At the other table the Chinese East-West pair put on even more pressure. M. F. Tai opened three hearts. Bob Hammann doubled. Pat Huang went to four hearts and it was up to Mike Lawrence to do something.

He knew he was being fixed, but decided to follow the principle of being fixed, but getting a sure plus score. He doubled four hearts. The best Tai could do was to gather in six tricks so Mike and Bob were plus 700 to give us a 7 IMP gain.

Looking back at the other table China might well have bid the slam, if Billy had kept quiet.

He has also been offered spots in television commercials. An EMI spokesman said Martin is ideal "because he looks so mischievous."

Last week the boy's headmaster at Shirley secondary school, Roy Smith, ordered two strokes of the cane for Martin and seven other pupils who he said had written essays on "Family Life" which were "obscene, flippant and derisive."

Martin's, after describing his dream of life in his late teens, concluded: "So as I have had my dreams, I shall go back to work as a public lavatory cleaner."

The other seven pupils took their punishment. But Martin refused, backed by his father and by his mother, who cleans toilets in a hospital. Smith suspended the boy from school.

The Croydon school board reversed the suspension, but Martin asked for a transfer and a school in Acton gave him a scholarship.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

Dear Helen:
Hail the eternal Romeo! May his many conquests fill his handsome head with bursting pride.

May he never stop to think of the warm, earthly female he belittles and badgers at home when he is on the trail of a new filly. May he never be concerned with her human needs as he is busy hoarding all his ammunition for the new affair. Can't put out two fires at once, you know, but never must his deprived (and still sexy) wife run around on HIM, or she is promptly labeled a slut and a trollop. (She doesn't.)

May this Don Juan's children never notice the gross neglect of their mother, and his indifference to them, but keep on thinking of him as their "idol." May they shrug off his chasing of young, middleaged and even older dames as "well, that's Pop for you," or "Can we help it if they fall all over him?" May he never run out of sex drive, for he has nothing else.

Let me, the wife, be the first to shout, "Hail, the conquering hero! CHASER'S MATE

P. S. May HE DROP DEAD! Dear C. M.:

Why haven't you shouted long ago; "To Hell with the 'Conquering' zero!"

P.S. Someday he may, but don't waste your life waiting. H.

Dear Helen:
My mistakes started early. I am 23, have three children, ages seven, five and three. Now I'm trying to straighten out my life. I'm off Welfare and work every day, and I want to marry the man I'm living with, but there are complications.

He had been separated eight years, but not divorced. Last year his wife was killed in an accident. Since then he has been sending money to support her five children who live with an aunt. But, Helen, only two of them are his!

If we marry, that will mean eight kids we have to support, and I can't see taking responsibility for three that don't belong to him. Their aunt is bringing them up to call him "Dad," and it isn't honest, besides being very expensive.

I want a real father for my children, but I don't want to be the "mother" of eight at only 23! Should I move out before I make another mistake? TOO MANY PROBLEMS

Dear TMP:

Your letter never once mentioned love which seems doubly important with all that motherhood. Don't turn this temporary arrangement into marriage unless you are sure you can handle all the little

Open Golf Event Really Closed One

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — It never was listed as an open, but the Houston Champions Invitational golf tournament rapidly is becoming a closed event.

The golf course was closed to practice Tuesday because of thunderstorms and heavy rain.

And, for the first time in many, many years at a professional tournament, the player's locker room was closed to the working press.

The locker room was so closed, in fact, that even field staff members of the PGA's Tournament Players Division were excluded.

"It's the first time we've really had the opportunity, because of the layout here, to have a little experiment," said Ed Griffiths, tournament supervisor for the TPD and the man in charge of this $125,000 event.

Griffiths gave the order to close the locker room, said he was instructed to do so, but declined to say who told him to do it.

Everyone else claimed ignorance.

Bob Rule, executive secretary of the Houston Golf Association, said he knew nothing about it until Monday and swore that neither the PGA nor Champions club had anything to do with it.

Joe Dey, TPD commissioner, said in New York he hadn't heard about it but would investigate. Professionals Dick Lotz and Dale Douglass, members of the TPD policy board, said they knew nothing about the ban and that it hadn't been discussed at a policy meeting.

But it remained in effect.

No one was able to get in a practice round because of the afternoon rains, but several managed to hit some range balls before the storm.

Ben Hogan, a 58-year-old legend who is making his first start of the season, drew a big gallery of fans and players on the practice tee, then ducked inside before the rains came.

Hogan, who finished in the top 10 in this tournament last year, one of his few competitive appearances, earlier in the week had practice rounds of 65 and 67 on the par 71 layout.

He will be at least a sentimental favorite when the field of 102 opens first round play Thursday. The relatively small field was due to this being an invitational tournament, rather than an open one in which players can win their way in, or gain a spot by qualifying. There is no qualifying for an invitational.

Other leading candidates for the $25,000 first prize include Arnold Palmer, Lee Trevino, Masters champ Charles Coody, Miller Barber, Frank Beard and J.C. Snead and Tom Shaw, each the winner of two tournaments this year.

Mason Rudolph and Art Wall withdrew with injuries. Billy Casper, Gary Player, U.S. Open champ Tony Jacklin and Jack Nicklaus, the tour's only three-time winner this year, did not enter.

Dallas Star Recruit May Quit Game

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Gil Brandt, who signed unhappy Dallas Cowboy running back Duane Thomas to a contract, said Tuesday he's surprised the National Football League's rookie of the year wants to retire.

Brandt, a club vice president, said, "Duane is a tremendous football player and a fine man. I'm just sorry he feels the way he does."

Thomas is in Los Angeles and said he has no plans to return here or talk with Cowboy officials. The former West Texas State star is unhappy with his three-year contract. He said it calls for him to make $500 less this year than he did last.

Thomas also said he had to haggle with Cowboy officials to get his rookie of the year bonus money.

He told the Dallas Morning News Tuesday that "not all of my problems derive from money. Another thing that concerned me was that they (the Cowboys) have no emotion about a player's well being. They look at you not as a person, but as a specimen."

In San Antonio, player-backfield coach Danny Reeves said Tuesday night, "I'm positive the Cowboy organization will be very fair with Duane and will see to it that Duane's back with the Cowboys next year."

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The District 17 NAIA baseball playoff will be held next Tuesday at Ray Winder Field in Little Rock.

The district committee meeting here Tuesday selected Ouachita, State College of Arkansas and either Harding or Henderson State College to represent the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference in the playoffs. The fourth team selected was John Brown University, which has a 20-11 record against four-year schools this year.

Harding has a conference doubleheader to play Thursday against College of the Ozarks and all the Bisons need to do is split to gain the third spot in the playoffs. Should Harding lose both games, Henderson will be the third AIC team.

The first game of the playoff will be at 11 a.m. between Ouachita and SCA. John Brown will play either Henderson or Harding at 1 p.m., and the two winners will play at 4 p.m.

Louis and Schmeling Meet Again

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Joe Louis and Max Schmeling, heavyweight boxing champions from another era and old friends now, drank cokes and arm wrestled for fun after their met here again Tuesday night.

"He's too strong for me," said Schmeling, now in his sixties and tired after a day that started 22 hours earlier in Hamburg. "But Joe, he is the greatest."

And Louis smiled and kidded back. "He is in great shape, great shape," said Louis, "always was."

Schmeling knocked out Louis the first time they fought in New York in June, 1936, before Louis won the heavyweight title. Schmeling tagged Louis early in the fight and won on a 12th-round knockout.

They met again on June 22, 1938 with Louis reigning as world champion. It was the eve of World War II and Schmeling was the pride of Nazi Germany.

Louis charged from his corner in the first round and hit Schmeling with a right hand shot to the rib cage that staggered the German. Louis won a knockout before the round was over.

"I remember," said Schmeling, "I remember." But he would say no more about the fight.

Louis and Schmeling said they have met frequently since the last fight, most often at championship fights where protocol demands the introduction of former ring greats.

Schmeling is in Las Vegas for a testimonial night for Louis to be held Friday at Caesars Palace, a plush Strip casino-hotel where Louis is now on the payroll as a house greeter. Louis will be 57 on Friday.

Arkansas State Reds Win 27-7

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Sophomore quarterback Jack Ross threw two touchdown passes and scored a touch on a seven-yard run to lead the Red unit to a 27-7 victory over the White unit in Arkansas State University's spring football game Tuesday night.

The Red struck quickly when the White fumbled the opening kickoff at its own 28 yard line. Six plays later tailback Calvin Harrell raced 15 yards up the middle to give his team a 6-0 advantage.

Ross connected on a 44-yard scoring toss to flanker Kearney Blalack later in the period and when Pat Patterson kicked the extra point to make the score 13-0.

Senior quarterback James Hamilton brought the Whites back in the second quarter with a 28-yard scoring pass to Steve Lockhart. That was the only touchdown the Whites could muster.

Ross put icing on the cake in the fourth quarter with a 17-yard scoring pass to Johnnie Carr and his final run to make it 27-7.

Ross finished with 12 completions in 28 attempts for 204 yards.

He combined with Blalack to give the Reds a superior passing attack. Blalack finished with five catches for 147 yards.

Harrell finished with 68 yards and Carr with 62, both on 13 carries.

Bigotti Gets Award for Mechanics

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — George Bigotti, chief mechanic for 1970 U.S. Auto Club racing champion Al Unser, will be coaxed away from his wrenches next Wednesday long enough to receive the D-A mechanical achievement award.

Master mechanics value the annual award as much as race drivers cherish the Borg-Warner Trophy for winning the Indianapolis 500-mile race. The D-A winners also like the $3,000 that goes with the plaque.

Tom Binford, president of the D-A racing oil firm and former USAC president, started giving the mechanics' award 12 years ago for outstanding preparation of Indianapolis cars.

Hope Wins 440-Yard Relay

Travs Split Pair With Amarillo

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers split a baseball doubleheader Tuesday night with the Amarillo Giants. The Travelers lost the first game 3-2 and won the nightcap 4-3.

The Travelers were trailing in the second game 3-1 in the fourth inning when Amarillo catcher Jerald Brown made a hard slide into second base and caused Tommy Heintzelman to make a wild throw to first.

A fight erupted at second base and Heintzelman was thrown out of the game. During the delay Amarillo lost its momentum.

Jorge Roque tied the score at 3-3 with a fifth-inning homer and drove in the winning run in the seventh on a sacrifice fly.

unit with 54 yards in 11 carries. Hamilton got 162 yards passing on 11 of 30 attempts.

Hogs Wind Up Spring Practice

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks held a brief scrimmage at the end of their spring football practice session Tuesday.

Quarterback Joe Ferguson threw touchdown passes of 29 and 49 yards to split end Mike Reppond for the only scores of the scrimmage that matched the first units against the second unit for 15 plays apiece.

Tailbacks Jon Richardson carried five times for 33 yards for the first unit. Sophomore Dicky Morton carried for 37 yards and Rick Emerson carried for 22 yards for the second unit.

Coach Frank Broyles said the practice was one of the better drills this season.

Utah and Kentucky to Break Tie

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah Stars Coach Bill Sharman has concentrated his team's efforts in two areas for tonight's battle with the Kentucky Colonels to break a 2-2 tie in the American Basketball Association championship playoffs.

"We have to play defense and not get scattered around like we did Saturday, and we will have to rebound better," Sharman declared.

The Stars were heavily out-rebounded in losing the last two games of the series at Louisville. Sharman says he feels that was partly due to Zelmo Beaty's early foul trouble and Red Robbins being sick.

Sharman said he didn't think Kentucky played its best at Louisville.

Kentucky Coach Frank Ramsey will start the same five players that started the first four games of the series. Darel Carrier and Louie Dampier will be the guards with Jim Ligon and Cincy Powell at forwards and Dan Issel at center.

The Utah Stars are a little less definite. Beaty is healthy, but has gotten into foul trouble early in the last two games. Red Robbins has recovered from a weekend bout with the flu, but isn't expected to be up to par.

Merv Jackson is a doubtful starter at guard with a bad knee. Sharman may have to throw swingman Ron Boone against Dampier. Glen Combs is expected to guard Carrier. Willie Wise has recovered from a bout with the flu enough to take the forward position.

The 13,208 tickets for tonight's game have been sold out since Monday. Stars officials have announced they plan a closed-circuit television broadcast to a nearby auditorium which can seat 2,400 persons.

The sixth game will be played Saturday afternoon in Louisville. A seventh game, if necessary, will be played Tuesday in the Salt Palace.

Utah must win tonight's game to preserve the home-court advantage, which it won by having a better regular-season record than Kentucky.

Preakness Field May Be Only 9

BALTIMORE (AP) — The field for Saturday's $150,000 Preakness, once considered likely to be bulky enough for two divisions, could dwindle to a mere nine today.

Leematt and Unconscious were withdrawn from the Triple Crown race Tuesday, reducing the probable field to 10, and a decision was expected today on Impetuosity.

Owner C. Oliver Goldsmith yanked Leematt from consideration Tuesday after the colt worked a mile in 1:41 1-5 from a starting gate.

Unconscious, who finished fifth in the Kentucky Derby after going off the favorite, will be kept out of the Preakness by an injured rear ankle.

"We decided reluctantly on my part to pass up the Preakness, in which he is entered, and concentrate on the Belmont," Arthur Seeligs, owner of Unconscious, said Tuesday.

Seeligs said his horse would be flown to New York sometime this week to prepare for next month's Belmont Stakes.

Jim French, the Derby runner-up, and Bold Reason are due to arrive on the grounds Thursday from Belmont, while Spouting Horn will be vanned from nearby Bowie on Friday.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am about to be married and my mother has told me that if I douche after intercourse it will prevent pregnancy. She says douching is much safer than using birth control items that are on the market. As I wish to work after marriage, I wish you would tell me if this is true or not.

Dear Reader—You could get some protection from a douche, but not nearly enough. I cannot recommend this as a very satisfactory method of birth control.

If you are looking for an absolutely safe birth control method, from a health point of view, there is no better substitute than abstinence at the critical period. This phase can be identified fairly accurately with oral temperatures recorded daily. There are only a few days each month that abstinence is necessary to affect birth control.

Then, of course, there are the pill and the intra-uterine device or loop. Both of these methods have been successful and actually have created a minimal number of problems.

For something that is so important to your life and your future, it seems to me that you really ought to have a good discussion with your family doctor at the beginning of your married life.

It should be added that for married couples that already have all the family they plan to have, the most effective, cheapest and least dangerous procedure is the vasectomy procedure for the male.

Dear Dr. Lamb—This may sound strange, but I really don't know. Is it possible for a girl (20) to attempt the act and afterwards find blood, but not be aware of any discomfort and still be a virgin?

Dear Reader—This probably depends upon one's definition of a virgin. I am not sure, however, what difference it really makes. The important considerations are the effects on your emotional outlook, like self-esteem and guilt reactions, the question of venereal disease and pregnancy.

I should think, under the circumstances you have described, that it would be possible to be sufficiently emotionally involved to not be aware of all the events that may have transpired.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Please send your questions and comments to Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Lamb cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS's

"60 Minutes" concentrated Tuesday night on the Lyndon Baines Johnson Library, to be dedicated later this month, and on secret numbered Swiss bank accounts.

In a preview of the library—with its handsome architecture, murals showing Johnson at various stages of his political career and thousands of red boxes holding his papers—the former president told of a critical hot-line threat during the 1967 Israel-Arab war. Premier Alexei N. Kosygin threatened Soviet action, and the then-president countered, he said, by ordering the 6th Fleet to move to within 50 miles of Syria. A cease-fire came shortly afterwards.

Those secret Swiss bank accounts are widely known. More-ly Safer, by comment and some interviews with Swiss bankers, added some details. They pay 4½ per cent interest, and no questions are asked of applicants.

As usual, it was a lively, informative hour.

"The Frog Prince," a children's show based—oh, so loosely—on the ancient fairy tale about the princess and the frog, is being shown on a number of stations during the next few days. It is one of those specials complete with sponsors that are getting national exposure by being placed on individual stations instead of the major networks.

The stars of the program were Jim Henson's endearing and amusing puppets, the Muppets, but this Canada-produced effort seemed to strain for whimsy and humor. Along the line even the puppets lost some of their charm.

The difficulty was trying to update and inject a little fun into a familiar child's tale. In this case, the prince was turned into a frog by a wicked witch, but had the good fortune to hop in the midst of Kermit and his "Sesame Street" frog friends. Meanwhile, the princess was under a spell, too—one that made her talk in Spoonerisms.

CBS's last-minute entry for a summer replacement will be a variety hour starring Sonny and Cher, the husband-wife singing team. It will premiere Aug. 1 and run six weeks in the Sunday evening hour preceding "Henry VIII and His Six Wives."

Engineers at the space agency's Lewis Research Center say a problem in an automatic pilot caused last Saturday's failure of the Mariner 8 Mars probe.

A spokesman said Monday there is a "good chance" the flaw can be corrected on Mariner 9 in time for it to be launched toward an orbit of Mars while earth and Mars are still in a favorable position. The last possible launch date is June 17.

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the flaw was found in a component of the upper stage Centaur rocket's automatic pilot.

The Mariner 8 spacecraft was to attempt an orbit of Mars. Minutes after launch at Cape Kennedy, Fla., of the Atlas-Centaur rocket, the second stage tumbled out of control and plunged into the Atlantic with its payload.

Mariner 9 was to follow May 18 and the two were to combine for a detailed study of Mars beginning later this year. NASA officials said Mariner 9 would not be launched until the Centaur's problem was corrected.

Funds for New Toll Rd. Study Asked

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Turnpike Authority voted Monday to ask the state Highway Department to pay for a new feasibility study of a proposed toll road between Little Rock and Pine Bluff.

Members of the authority agreed that of all proposed toll-road routes in the state, the Little Rock to Pine Bluff route was the most feasible.

A 1968 study showed the Pine Bluff-Little Rock turnpike was not economically feasible. The state turnpike law says that such toll roads must pay for themselves.

Gov. Dale Bumpers, chairman of the authority, said, however, that increased traffic between Little Rock and Pine Bluff could make the road economically feasible.

Bumpers said he felt a successful toll road between Little Rock and Pine Bluff would provide insurance for other such roads in the state.

Highway Director Ward Goodman, secretary of the authority, said that a four-lane road from Little Rock to Pine Bluff could not be built with Highway Department funds for at least five years.

Goodman said the department currently had a total of $14 million, including federal funds, to spend on primary road construction in the state during the current fiscal year. He said the proposed Little Rock - Pine Bluff road would cost about $22 million.

Bumpers also said he hoped to meet soon with the governors of Oklahoma and Missouri to study a proposed toll road from Kansas City through eastern Oklahoma and western Arkansas.

The governor said he hoped the states could get some type of federal assistance to build the proposed road.

Funds for New Toll Rd. Study Asked

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Turnpike Authority voted Monday to ask the state Highway Department to pay for a new feasibility study of a proposed toll road between Little Rock and Pine Bluff.

Members of the authority agreed that of all proposed toll-road routes in the state, the Little Rock to Pine Bluff route was the most feasible.

A 1968 study showed the Pine Bluff-Little Rock turnpike was not economically feasible. The state turnpike law says that such toll roads must pay for themselves.

Gov. Dale Bumpers, chairman of the authority, said, however, that increased traffic between Little Rock and Pine Bluff could make the road economically feasible.

Bumpers said he felt a successful toll road between Little Rock and Pine Bluff would provide insurance for other such roads in the state.

Highway Director Ward Goodman, secretary of the authority, said that a four-lane road from Little Rock to Pine Bluff could not be built with Highway Department funds for at least five years.

Goodman said the department currently had a total of $14 million, including federal funds, to spend on primary road construction in the state during the current fiscal year. He said the proposed Little Rock - Pine Bluff road would cost about $22 million.

Bumpers also said he hoped to meet soon with the governors of Oklahoma and Missouri to study a proposed toll road from Kansas City through eastern Oklahoma and western Arkansas.

The governor said he hoped the states could get some type of federal assistance to build the proposed road.

Mariner 8 space craft was to attempt an orbit of Mars. Minutes after launch at Cape Kennedy, Fla., of the Atlas-Centaur rocket, the second stage tumbled out of control and plunged into the Atlantic with its payload.

Mariner 9 was to follow May 18 and the two were to combine for a detailed study of Mars beginning later this year. NASA officials said Mariner 9 would not be launched until the Centaur's problem was corrected.

Baccalaureate Services & Vocal Musical At Bethel

Due to the need for spiritual guidance of our young people as they complete the 1st major segment of academic study, and the emphasis to seek the paths prescribed by the holy will of God as they leave high school for various pursuits, the Bethel A.M.E. Church feels the keen responsibility to continue the tradition of Baccalaureate worship for these young men and women in a time when spiritual values are most needed and yet legal society has advanced to a stage where the school system no longer provides this much needed service for preparing the young.

Sunday morning at 10:50, an invitational Baccalaureate worship service will be observed. All graduating seniors in the Hope, Blevins, Spring Hill, Prescott, and Rosston areas are invited to attend.

The senior choir, under the HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset

direction of Miss Brenda Wilson will provide the music, including Hymns, "God of Our Fathers," by Roberts, "A Mighty Fortress is our God," by Luther, and "God of Grace and God of Glory," by Hughes; Miss Peggy Williams will sing the benediction number, "Bless This House" by Brahe. Mrs. Esther Hicks, church organist, will accompany the choir. The pastor, Dr. W. G. Wynn, will preach on the Text: "Man Shall Not Live By Bread Alone". Other participants on the program will include an acknowledgement legacy to the graduates by Mrs. Shirley Davis, and a brief executive commentary by Will V. Rutherford, Principal of Yerger Junior High School.

The youth auxiliaries of the church will provide a repast for the graduates in the church's parish house, to follow worship adjournment.

On Sunday night, at 7:30, the senior choir will host a vocal musical. The following choirs are invited: BeeBe C.M.E., Rising Star, Garrett Chapel, Macedonia, Columbus, Providence, Haynes Chapel, Mt. Ephesus, Prescott, Mt. Olive, Saratoga, Baptist, Shady Grove A.M.E., Emmet, and Mt. Pleasant and Mt. Zion C.M.E. All choirs will render a medley of two selections.

NEW YORK (AP) — Conductor Leonard Bernstein and his wife, who drew criticism last year for their benefit on behalf of a Black Panther group, have given another fundraising party, this one in support of the Rev. Philip F. Rigan and five codefendants.

The Monday night party reportedly raised $35,000 for Rigan and the others who are charged with conspiring to kidnap presidential aide Henry A. Kissinger and blow up heating systems in federal buildings in Washington.

The party was closed to the news media, according to Charlotte Curtis who reported the event in today's New York Times.

Miss Curtis said the Bernsteins hoped the party would not be publicized like the one they gave for the Panthers Legal Defense Fund.

Protest Tightening Home Loans

By BILL NEIKIRK

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Conservatism in the savings and loan industry is making it difficult for thousands of moderate-income Americans to obtain subsidized home loans under a new government program, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board says.

Since last week, when the board announced it had less than two months to spend more than $45 million set aside for the subsidy program, there has been a rush of persons seeking to buy homes with reduced monthly payments.

Many were turned down by lenders who said they didn't offer it or didn't have information on the program, the board said.

"The composition of our membership is very conservative, a fact of life that we can't change by fiat from Washington," said James A. Coles, director of bank operations for the board. This attitude is particularly prevalent in the Southwest, Midwest and Upper New England, he added.

The program is designed to help families earning between $7,000 and $12,000 annually to become eligible for conventional home loans. The subsidy would reduce their monthly payments $20 over five years.

The $45 million represents the balance of $85 million available this fiscal year. The board has expressed fear future appropriations may be cut if the full amount is not spent this year.

Technically called HOAP, for the Housing Opportunity Allowance Program, the project has a $25,000 loan ceiling.

Eligibility is determined by a sliding income scale based on the number of children in the family and the area of the country.

the streets entering Main Street, which in many cases will cut the corner of private property. Additional right-of-way, varying from 5 to 7 feet, will be needed through a part of the distance along South Main Street. The legal division of the Highway Department has made up complete maps showing parcels of the property that will be needed, but the right-of-way will have to be furnished by the community. They plan to rebuild all sidewalks along the route of the work and in most cases the additional right-of-way is needed for walk area.

The city directors passed a resolution approving a Comprehensive Planning Study that has recently been completed by Mr. Thomas Hodges of the Urban Planning and Development Corporation. The overall plan for community development is a requirement of the federal government for almost all federally assisted programs, including roads and highways. The approved plan will be furnished to the Arkansas Highway Department for use in their negotiations with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads for securing approval of a new road connecting the city to Interstate 30 at Highway 29 north. The plan for this road is under study by the State Highway Department but will have to finally be approved by the Bureau of Public Roads.
